

XXIVth Biannual Meeting of the University Chemical Safety Forum

Imperial College London
Chemistry – White City Campus
Wednesday 18th September 2019

University Chemical Safety Forum

Venue:		Weds 18th September 2019 9.00 am - 15:45 pm
	Topic	Speaker
09.00 - 09.30	Registration and coffee
09.30 - 09.40	Welcome	Professor Oscar Ces, HoD Chemistry, Imperial College London
09.40 - 12.10	H&S Sentencing Guidelines	Professor Paul Almond, University of Reading
	Emergency Response	Nigel Blumire and Chris Lewis, National Chemical Emergency Centre
	Coffee, tea and networking
	I'm a Chemistry Dept, Get Me Out of Here!	Stefan Hoyle, Faculty of Natural Sciences Head of Health and Safety
	Chemical storage: Organise, don't agonise	Emma Edwards and Anthony Marchant, Faculty of Natural Sciences Safety Officers
11.50 - 12.10	Keeping One Step Ahead - The Safest Way to Store Flammables	Les Day - ASECOS
12.10 - 13.10	Lunch
13.10 - 14:10	Tour of facilities
14.10 - 14.30	Coffee, tea and networking
14:30 - 14:45	Update from UK Nanosafety Group	David Kinnison - Chair of UK Nanosafety Group
14.45 - 15.25	Recent incidents
15.25 - 15.30	UCSF update and next meeting
15.45	Meeting End
Meeting Kindly Sponsored by: Asecos and Aport

University Chemical Safety Forum

The meeting 9.00 am – 15.30 pm Wednesday 18th September 2019

The venue - The meeting will be held at the Molecular Sciences Research Hub, 80 Wood Lane, Shepherd's Bush, London, W12 0BZ.

Nearest tube – White City

For more information on the area please see <https://www.imperial.ac.uk/visit/campuses/white-city/>

Please note – there is no parking available on the White City campus.

Registration and Meeting costs

- To attend the UCSF meeting on 18th September 2019 only: £25
- To attend the networking evening on 17th September 2019: £35
- Register online at: <https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/ucsf-xxivth-meeting-imperial-college-london-chemistry-tickets-66474987477>
 - Please register before Wednesday 11th September 2019
 - Registration is open to all members of UCSF and subscribers to CHEMSAFNET. By registering you are agreeing to respect the anonymity of any information on incidents received through the meeting: there can be no attribution to the institution, people involved or reporting the information (this does not apply if the information is publically available, or if the person speaking agrees to attribution.
 - Non-members of UCSF & CHEMSAFNET but who are members of partner organisations USHA & ISTR can also attend by agreeing to the anonymity described above.

If you really cannot register online then contact UCSF Treasurer, Gretta Roberts (gretta.roberts@durham.ac.uk), stating your requirements and an invoice can be sent to you (or bring a cheque to the meeting to the University Chemical Safety Forum) (though we strongly prefer online registration).

Should you require assistance (e.g. with respect to mobility, audio, dietary requirements) let the organisers know in advance please (alaine.martin@strath.ac.uk).

Please note, the agenda is accurate when circulated, it is always possible that a speaker may not be able to attend on the day, in which case alternatives will be provided.

The evening before: Networking Event

There will be a meal on Tuesday 17th September at Browns Brasserie & Bar Covent Garden

If you are staying overnight then please come along, it is excellent way to get to know other members of UCSF. Please book early, as places are limited.

Accommodation

There is a limited number of rooms available at Imperial College halls of residence. All conference attendees can make their bookings directly through the Imperial College London reservation office over the phone +44207 5949507, email vacenquiries@imperial.ac.uk or visit the website <https://www.imperial.ac.uk/visit/summer-accommodation/> for the best available rates at the time of booking.